

JOINT EVENT

8th International Conference on Petroleum Engineering
&9th International Conference and Expo on Oil and Gas

October 15-16, 2018 | Rome, Italy

Maurizio Granata

Business Development Executive EMIA at Hexagon PPM, Italy

Digital Project Execution & Management Supporting E&P Capital Investments

In the context of Digital Transformation, today's technology is re-shaping the execution and management of capital projects, ensuring that even the most complex project will provide clients with expected financial returns. Being able to efficiently manage and execute a project requires an integrated approach towards project execution and management, benefiting the entire engineering, construction, and operations value chain of the organization. This can be achieved by improving productivity, traceability and profitability. During this session Attendees will see how Hexagon PPM's Integrated suite of solutions help organisations to digitally transform the Project Execution and Management processes - from project portfolio management, project controls, contract management, materials supply chain, construction and completion. It looks like the future of technology, but it is available today.

Biography

Highly motivated and results oriented executive. Maurizio is strong leader and trusted advisor; he brings to Customers an extensive background in both engineering and business. Maurizio's knowledge has built through both a 30 years career in the plant design industry, his education (MSC) in chemical engineering, business management, and executive business administration (MBA), and his cooperation and experience with Information Sciences Dept. of Milan State University.

maurizio.granata@hexagon.com