

World Congress on
OIL, GAS AND PETROLEUM REFINERY
December 17-18, 2018 Abu Dhabi, UAE

Selection and design for some drilling equipment for well

Badr Alqaood

Petroleum Exploration and Production Authority (PEPA) - Yemen

Drilling is one of the phases of oil investigation, did after the prospecting stage, and includes every one of the activities done since the start of the well to its conveyance, (to the creation group). The target of this investigation is to examine and describe precisely the significant procedures performed amid the boring of an oil well. These are forms that include a high speculation and money related hazard, where wellbeing and effectiveness are catchphrases and significant for a monetary suitability. The right measuring of these procedures, the manner in which they are guided and run, turn into the way to a boring's prosperity. It is in this setting the investigation of methodology and the operational issues identifying with these procedures, turn out to be critical for the oil business, and for society, since oil is the fundamental wellspring of vitality today, adding to the definition of best practices and enhancement of the boring innovation. For a superior comprehension everything being equal, the primary hardware utilized in the penetrating of a well is, secured solitary in the wake of, boring activities are legitimately referenced. The boring system and the consummation of a well is, exhibited toward the end, which depicts in detail all activities, incorporating how to continue if there should be an occurrence of the abandonment of a well.

Biography

Drilling Engineering at Petroleum Exploration and Production Authority (PEPA) - Yemen. Holds a bachelor degree in Petroleum Engineering (2004) from the Hadramout University for Science & Technology - Yemen. Worked as a Drilling Engineering for PEPA, and worked also as Mud Logger in different positions for PetroServices GmbH Oilfield Services – Yemen, and worked a project for drilling (selection and design for some drilling equipment for well in Masillah Hadramout Yemen)

baalgaoo@gmail.com

Notes: