

Assessment of knowledge and practice of infection control policies

Mohammad Fares Shehadah
Taibah University, KSA

There have been very few studies conducted in Saudi Arabia examining the knowledge and practices of dental students regarding infection control guidelines. A questionnaire is going to be conducted among 50 male students in Taibah Dental College to assess and compare the knowledge between different students in relation to their studying year and prophylactic action following dental injury and compare the knowledge of students to their observed practices in the clinics.

- This research aims to assess the knowledge about infection control policies among male dental students in Taibah University.
- Compare the knowledge between different students in relation to their studying year.
- Knowledge regarding prophylactic action following dental injury.
- Compare the knowledge of students to their observed practices in the clinics.

mohammed-fares124@hotmail.com