Abstract

Periodontal Esthetics in the midst of Orthodontic Treatment, is of a mandated value to any dental treatment, as all dental disciplines are more or less incorporated and/or related. Therefore, the awareness and importance of Periodontal health is the preceding or goes in hand with plaque control prior to any other dental esthetic therapy. So stay tuned while we share our Perio-Ortho clinical cases together, for a further and a step-up clinical experience!

Feteih, also a jewelry designer and artist, and her first entry was in 2014, at a jewelry designers' contest, and won second place as her first experience, and has her own design line. Sarah thrives for personal and professional growth, with Emotional Intelligence certificates, and coaches peers at work.
